Veggielution

Business Summary: Veggielution recognizes the need for local and sustainable agriculture for a healthy community and local economy. To meet these needs in our community, we have created an urban farm at San Jose's Emma Prusch Park with plans on expanding in the near future. Our current and future successes are tied to our broad vision and goals: to empower youth, embrace diversity, build community, and create a more sustainable food system in San Jose.

CROConnect

Business Summary: CROConnect offers clinical trial services to medical device companies by working closely with CROs (Contract Research Organizations). Sponsor requirements (demographic, geographic, ethnic, price etc.) are determined to develop a clinical trials plan, select qualified global CROs and execute the clinical trial. A strong relationship between the Sponsor and CROs will allow for an effective clinical trial with a reduced likelihood of failure.
