

Grant Thornton

David N. Bowen

J.D., LLM (Taxation), LLM (Dispute Resolution)

National Transfer Pricing Practice Leader – Washington, D.C.

David Bowen is a Principal in Grant Thornton's International Tax practice. He is the practice leader for the firm's transfer pricing practice and is based in the National Tax Office in Washington, DC.

Experience

Prior to joining Grant Thornton, David spent several years as a partner with Mayer, Brown, Rowe & Mawe working on federal income tax planning, tax controversies and transfer pricing. He spent four years in the Office of the IRS Associate Chief Counsel (International) – one-and-a-half working with the Advance Pricing Agreement Program and two-and-a-half as Special Counsel.

In addition, he worked in the Washington, DC, offices of Dewey Ballantine, LLP and Baker & McKenzie on federal income tax controversies.

Professional qualifications and memberships

Member: District of Columbia and Florida Bar

Presentations and publications

David has contributed to the Fundamentals of Federal Income Taxation, 6th Ed., the Tax Management International Journal and numerous other publications. He is a regular speaker at American Bar Association, Tax Executives Institute and the Organization for International Investment, among others. While with the Internal Revenue Service, he contributed to Prop. Treas. Reg. Sec. 1.482-7 (2005) and Sec. 1.482-9 (2003), as well as Revenue Procedures for the Advance Pricing Agreement and Pre-Filing Agreement Programs.

Education

LL.M. in Litigation and Dispute Resolution with Highest Honors, George Washington University Law School
LL.M. in Taxation, University of Florida
J.D. Marshall-Wythe School of Law, College of William & Mary
B.S. in Accounting, summa cum laude, University of Maryland

Contact details

1250 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 400
Washington, DC 20036

T: 202.521.1580

E: David.Bowen@gt.com